Rhythmic drumming, especially when accompanied by chanting & simple symbolic circle dance movements, has the power to calm, centre, lift depression, release anger and stress emotions, boost the immune system, enhance health and stress-resilience.

Co-creative group-drumming builds self-confidence & self-esteem & a stronger sense of connectedness to oneself [self-integration] & others [teamwork].

Drumming helps us to experience being in harmony with the natural rhythms of life and helps us to release negative feelings, energy blocks and emotional trauma. Drumming brings you more fully into the present moment [mindfulness training] and provides a medium for individual spontaneity, creativity & self-realization.

Meditative and cathartic pow-wow drumming [multi-person drums] sessions are woven into your wide-ranging course of magical, therapeutic drumming experiences. Also a restful, lying-down session to hear a live recital of creative Native American flute music.

A few of Native American & Celtic circle dances and chants will be included - these helps us to drum holistically - from our whole body and spirit.

PLEASE BRING WITH YOU: a mat to lie on + drum & rattle if you have them - otherwise on free loan]
COURSE COST = FREE!
